Birko Launches Brewing Equipment Catalog

Catalog features safety, hand care, allocation & dispensing, cleaning & sanitizing and environment equipment

HENDERSON, Colo. – Birko, a leader in providing integrated sanitation solutions in the brewing and distilling, produce and fresh cut, further processing and meat, poultry and protein harvest industries, launches the Birko Brew Equipment Catalog for craft brewers of all sizes. The catalog is available for download online or through a Birko sales representative.

The launch of the Birko Brew Equipment Catalog reinforces that Birko is a full service partner for brewing and distilling needs, from sanitation chemistry to automation and dispensing equipment.

“Brewers have a variety of needs: some have concerns about passing an OSHA inspection, others want to minimize water consumption and there are those who want to leverage automation to ensure proper sanitation and cut back on labor,” said George Allen, Birko director of brewing and distilling business development. “The goal of Birko’s Brew Equipment Catalog is to provide solutions for all sorts of pain points our brew customers are experiencing so they can feel empowered to keep clean and brew on.”

The Birko Brew Equipment Catalog provides specifications and order information for equipment developed for brewery safety, hand care, allocation and dispensing of chemicals, cleaning and sanitizing of the brewery and brew equipment and environmental needs. It additionally offers resources for engineering support.

To learn more, brewers can download the catalog online, or contact George Allen, Birko director of brewing and distilling business development at (720) 315-2606 or gcallen@birkocorp.com.
